

Challenging and fulfilling experiences, globally!

Electrolux is looking at the global partnership with AIESEC as a sure way to build future leadership within the company, to access international talent and build Electrolux as a strong employer brand in the international student community.

Rohit Sathe - Electrolux intern in USA, China from India

AIESEC Experience: AI VP ER 03-04, AI GEP Coordinator 02-03, MCVP ER India 01-02

My role

" My main responsibility in the Global Logistics Team, based in Springfield, TN & Shanghai was to support our factories in USA, Europe in designing and implementing a cost-effective Supply Chain solution for products sourced from Asian and CEE countries.

Additionally, i spent a significant amount of time in Southern China, managing production of Electrolux's OEM (Original Equipment Manufacturers) suppliers. Frequent International & domestic travelling was an icing on the cake.

In my own words...

A pity that I have just a few lines to summarize my 15-month internship experience with Electrolux. "In Electrolux, you get what you take on", so if you are a self-starter, ambitious, and want to drive change this is the place to be.

Why Electrolux?

While signing Electrolux Global Partnership and having interacted with the senior leadership, I gained a good insight into the organization's culture, business, vision and product portfolio.

A Fortune 500 company, World's largest White Goods manufacturer, with Innovation & Customer Delight at its core, a firm believer in functional & geographical mobility, pioneer of change in the most competitive industry segment are reasons enough, right?

Currently...

I am employed in Shanghai. My current project makes me travel constantly to the US, Canada to work with factories, gather & analyze purchasing spend data, manage global tenders and present scenarios to enable decision making by the top management."
